TV player who was a stray struck mute by an indian attack and reluctantly “adopted” by Robert Redford in “JEREMIAH JOHNSON” (only to be slain in a subsequent indian attack), and then the son of a disoriented, involuntary time traveller in “SLAUGHTERHOUSE FIVE” before landing the title role in a muted TV version of “TOM SAWYER”, broadcast only a few weeks ahead of the release of a musicalised Readers Digest version for the big screen, with Johnny Whitaker and Jodie Foster. Nothing else is known of him.

When he comes to the aid of a settler woman following an indian attack, “JEREMIAH JOHNSON” has her son foist upon him by the deranged woman, who stays behind to tend the graves of the rest of her family. The boy himself is struck mute by the experience, and doesn’t utter a word throughout the film. Johnson elects to call him Caleb.
