"An exceptionally nice, attractive boy, more beautiful than talented" said his director in "DET HEMMELIGHEDSFULDE X" (1913) Source: The Moving Picture Boy

The Moving Picture Boy entry:

“With his classic features and wavy blond hair, Otto Reinwald – "the Crown Prince of Film" – could have been the perfect "DEATH IN VENICE" garçon fatal: but far from lounging around in decorative attitudes, his film character was usually daring and practical, no stranger to heroic adventures. In Benjamin Christensen’s "THE MYSTERIOUS X", for instance, he risked many deaths in finding evidence to clear the wronged name of his father, arriving in split-second time to halt the firing-squad.

Christensen later remembered Otto as "an exceptionally nice, attractive boy, more beautiful than talented". He also recalled his conquering a dread of water to plunge into the harbour at Elsinore – a display of real courage and impeccable professionalism.”
