Hi, Lolo ! Spain's top boy star of the 70s gets pixelated.

CVMC video retail/rental website review:

"An eleven year old boy (Lolo Garcia) is told his mother is dead but soon finds evidence to the contrary. Determined to see her again, our young hero runs off and begins a search that takes him through several different countries and which is often full of danger. A decently done film which should interest fans of Garcia.

Rated NR: adult themes [sic]

Language: Italian (with Spanish dubbing)

Categories: Boy Films, Little to Preteen, Drama

NOTE: This movie is in Italian with NO ENGLISH SUBTITLES OR DUBBING."

[no listing in "Halliwell's Film Guide", "Leonard Maltin's Movie and Video Guide 2001", "Bloomsbury Foreign Film Guide", "The Critics' Film Guide", "Movies on TV and Videocassette 1988-89", "Rating the Movies (1990)", "The Time Out Film Guide", "TV Times Film & Video Guide 1995", "Variety Movie Guide 1993", "Video Movie Guide 1993" or "The Virgin Film Guide"]

All's well that ends. Surely the closing shot of the film.

No further information currently available. I may be going out on a limb here, but I've a hunch computers are mixed up in there somewhere. Is Lolo Garcia another boy robot? If so, who designed the software? The "Speelfilm Encyclopedie" is the only source to date which pays note of his other films, although it hasn't a kind word to say for any of them: "LA GUERRA DE PAPA" (77), "TOBI" (78), "2 Y 2, 5" (80), though there will certainly be others.

See subject index under EPIC JOURNEYS, RUNAWAYS / STOWAWAYS and putatively under COMPUTERS / HACKERS / VIDEO GAMES.
