How Sweet it Was – Television: A Pictorial
 Commentary caption:

"The saga of an Irish-American family living in the Ohio River Valley shortly after World War I, the show featured (left to right) Harry Holcombe, Virginia Dwyer, Ronnie Walken and Ian Martin. It made its debut in 1953."

[no listing in "Halliwell's Television Companion", "History of Television", "Television's Greatest Hits" or "25 Years of ITV - 1955-1980"]

No further information currently available. Ronnie Walken was presumably an elder brother of Glenn Walken, who also appeared on US TV around the same time, notably in "The Guiding Light" (55) and "The World of Mr Sweeney" (53). Neither is listed in "The Moving Picture Boy". Whether or not they were related to Christopher Walken, who made his debut in "THE DEER HUNTER" (78), is not known.

See subject index under SITCOMS & SOAPS.
